Introduction

Scope of This Directory

This directory lists grant and funding programs that will be of interest to:

- low-income women and families
- women's programs and organizations
- female university, SIAST and regional college students
- non-profit community groups interested in improving the quality of life in their community

Organization of This Directory

The directory is organized into six parts:

Part 1 – Provincial Government – which lists programs offered by the Government of Saskatchewan.

Part 2 – Federal Government – which lists programs offered by the Government of Canada.

Part 3 – Municipal Government and Health Districts – which summarizes programs available through these agencies.

Part 4 – Foundations, Charities and Miscellaneous

Part 5 – Scholarships and Awards – which lists financial aid specifically targeted to female post-secondary students.

Part 6 – Subject Index – which organizes the content of this directory under subject headings.

The information in this directory was correct as of mid-January 2002. Government programs are subject to frequent change. Academic scholarships may vary from one year to the next. As well, phone numbers, e-mail addresses and website addresses may change. Please contact the appropriate agency for the most recent information before submitting an application for any program or scholarship.

The Communities Initiatives Fund described below is a community program of Saskatchewan Culture, Youth and Recreation. In addition, Saskatchewan Culture, Youth and Recreation administers a number of specialized grant and tax credit programs to cultural industries, and sports and cultural groups.

Community Initiatives Fund

The Community Initiatives Fund (formerly called the Associated Entities Fund) was created by the Government of Saskatchewan in 1994, to distribute a portion of casino profits to:

- regional exhibition associations
- Métis organizations or community-based business development
- non-profit community groups providing programs and services for vulnerable children, youth and families.

Recently, these purposes were expanded to include:

- hospital foundations in Regina and Saskatoon
- problem gambling prevention and treatment programs
- construction/renovation of community cultural facilities

The Community Initiatives Fund receives part of the profits from Casino Regina and from the Golden Eagle Casino in North Battleford.

Saskatchewan Health administers the following programs:

- Benefits for Income Supplement Recipients
- Drug Plan Special Support Program
- Emergency Prescription Drug Assistance Program
- Family Health Benefits Program
- Supplementary Health Program

In addition to the general programs described below, Saskatchewan Health offers several highly specialized programs, for example, assistance with ambulance costs in some situations. Refer to the Saskatchewan Health website (http://www.health.gov.sk.ca/) for information about other specialized programs.

Benefits for Income Supplement Recipients

Saskatchewan residents who qualify for the Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS) and Saskatchewan Income Plan (SIP) also receive the following benefits.

GIS Recipients:

- If living in the community, the semi-annual deductible is $200 for prescription drugs with a 35 percent co-payment thereafter.
- If residing in a special care home, the semi-annual deductible is $100 for prescription drugs with a 35 percent co-payment thereafter.
- Residents may be eligible for additional drug coverage through the Special Support Program.

SIP Recipients:

- $100 semi-annual deductible for prescription drugs; 35 percent consumer co-payment thereafter.
- Full chiropractic services.
- Eye examination once every two years.
- Residents may be eligible for additional drug coverage through the Special Support Program.

Drug Plan Special Support Program

The Drug Plan Special Support Program helps people whose drug costs are high in relation to their income. Application forms are available from all pharmacies or by contacting the Drug Plan.

Emergency Prescription Drug Assistance Program

Saskatchewan residents who require immediate treatment with covered prescription drugs and are unable to cover their share of the cost may access the Emergency Assistance Program. An eligible person may obtain a limited supply of covered prescription drugs at a reduced cost.

To request coverage, the patient's pharmacy may call the Drug Plan at the numbers on the left.

Family Health Benefits Program

The Family Health Benefits program provides benefits for:

- Families eligible for the Saskatchewan Child Benefit
- Families eligible for the Saskatchewan Employment Supplement

Children are covered for:

- Most dental services
- Eye examinations once a year; basic eyeglasses
- Emergency ambulance
- Basic medical supplies (some items require prior approval)
- Chiropractic services
- Formulary and exception status drugs.

Parents or legal guardians are covered for some limited services as well.

Supplementary Health Program

The Supplementary Health Program provides benefits for the following people:

- People approved by Saskatchewan Social Services for coverage under the Saskatchewan Assistance Plan (SAP)
- Government wards
- Inmates of provincial correctional institutions
- People receiving SAP benefits who reside in an approved home licensed under the Mental Health Act
- People 65 years and older who reside in licensed special care homes or hospitals and whose income is at or below the Saskatchewan Income Plan level. The administrator of the facility must fill out a form and forward it to the Saskatchewan Income Plan for processing
- Saskatchewan Income Plan recipients living in the community

Benefits provided include:

- Medical examinations and reports
- Dental services
- Medial supplies and appliances
- Optometric services
- Chiropractic services
- Medical transportation.
- Formulary and exception status drugs.

The type of benefits provided varies depending on the beneficiary. Consult the Supplementary Health Program web page for more details (http://www.health.gov.sk.ca/ps_supplementary.html).

A list of additional office locations appears at the end of this section on the Saskatchewan Housing Corporation.

The Saskatchewan Housing Corporation offers the following housing programs to Saskatchewan residents:

- Home Adaptations for Seniors' Independence
- Home Modification for the Disabled Program
- Neighbourhood Home Ownership Program
- Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Programs (six programs)
- Saskatchewan Assisted Living Services
- Shelter Enhancement Programs
- Social and Affordable Housing Programs

Home Adaptations for Seniors' Independence

The Home Adaptations for Seniors' Independence Program (HASI) provides grants to low-income seniors who, with minor adaptations to their homes, would be able to continue living independently. The program is cost shared with the Federal Government.

- The program is open to Saskatchewan seniors, aged 65 and over, who meet low-income guidelines and have difficulty performing daily tasks. Seniors will be required to provide confirmation of their disability signed by their doctor as part of their application submission.
- The senior of a family member may own the home. Rental accommodation is also eligible if the landlord consents to the modification.
- Eligible work includes permanent additions, replacements, or relocations, which increase the level of safety and are related to the senior's loss of ability.

Examples of work include:

- Ramps
- Stairway lifts
- Remodelling bathroom/kitchen facilities and fixtures
- Widening of doorways
- Handrails
- Lighting modifications
- Other work deemed appropriate by SHC

- The Provincial Government, in co-operation with CMHC, will provide one-time, non-repayable grants of up to $2,500 per household. Successful applicants must obtain prior approval before any renovations or modifications begin. Once approval is granted, the seniors will have 90 days to complete all the work.

Home Modifications for the Disabled

HOME MOD offers financial assistance to low-income households to change the access to or design of their home in order to accommodate the particular needs of a household member with a disability, so that the person with the disability can continue living independently.

The maximum grant is $2,000. Households with incomes below $23,000 are eligible for the full grant amount while those with incomes between $23,000 and $33,000 are eligible for a decreasing amount of assistance. The amount of the grant will not be greater than the value of the work done.

Neighbourhood Home Ownership Program

The Neighbourhood Home Ownership Program (NHOP) provides financial assistance to lower-income families to enable them to purchase a home through the provision of a forgivable down payment. Homes must be located in inner-city areas of large urban centres. The program is cost-shared by the federal, provincial and municipal governments.

Families that qualify will receive assistance ranging from 25-35% of the maximum house cost allowed to purchase a housing unit. The assistance is in the form of an equity/repair loan from the province, and the respective city.

Communities where funding is available are Saskatoon, Regina, Prince Albert, and Moose Jaw.

Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Programs

The Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Programs (RRAP) offer financial assistance for repairs necessary to make a home healthier and safer for low-income occupants. Six RRAP programs are available.

For information about the eligibility criteria and the amount of assistance available, contact the Saskatchewan Housing Corporation.

- Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program for Persons with Disabilities (Disabled RRAP) –is a loan for homeowners and landlords to modify their dwelling for improved accessibility. Depending on household income, modification costs, and geographic location, a portion of the loan may be forgivable.
- Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program Emergency Repair Program (ERP) – assists low-income homeowners or occupants living in rural communities of 2,500 people or less who require emergency repairs for the continued safe occupancy of their homes. Assistance under ERP is in the form of a grant.
- Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program (Homeowner RRAP) – is a loan to homeowners who live in substandard dwellings and cannot afford the repairs. Depending on household income, modification costs, and geographic location, a potion of the loan may be forgivable.
- Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program (Rental RRAP) – is a forgivable loan for landlords who agree to rent to low-income tenants for a specified length of time.
- Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program (Roominghouse RRAP) – provides assistance to owners of rooming houses intended for permanent accommodation with rents affordable to low-income individuals. Assistance is in the form of a fully forgivable loan.

Saskatchewan Assisted Living Services

Saskatchewan Assisted Living Services (SALS) provides a community-based service option for low-income tenants in senior social housing who require a combination of shelter and support services to maintain their independence.

SALS offers four services provided on a fee-for-service basis. These services include:

- Laundry
- Housekeeping
- One nutritious meal per day
- Personal response system for urgent situations

Another service that will be provided by the Housing Authority at no cost to the tenant is coordination of organized social and recreational activities such as transportation and tenant association activities.

Shelter Enhancement Programs

Two shelter enhancement programs are available.

- Shelter Enhancement Program – New Projects – provides loans to increase the number of emergency shelters and second stage housing units available to women and children or youth who are victims of family violence. Assistant is in the form of an interest-free, forgivable loan secured by a mortgage over 15 years.
- Shelter Enhancement Program – Renovation – provides financial assistance for repairs necessary to bring existing shelters to an acceptable level of health, safety and security for victims of family violence. Assistance is in the form of an interest-free forgivable loan secured by a loan agreement over one year.

Social and Affordable Housing Programs

- Social housing provides adequate, affordable, suitable, rental accommodation to low-income households throughout Saskatchewan. Households are required to pay a maximum rental equal to 25 percent of household income.
- Affordable housing is for lower- to modest-income households who are experiencing an affordable housing problem and are spending more than 30 percent of their household income on shelter.

A list of the address and phone numbers of the Canada-Saskatchewan Career and Employment Services Offices throughout Saskatchewan appears at the end of this section.

Programs offered by Saskatchewan Post-Secondary Education and Skills Training include:

- Adult Basic Education
- Employability Assistance for People with Disabilities (EAPD)
- Employment Programs (five programs)
- Family Literacy Initiative
- JobStart/Future Skills
- Provincial Training Allowance
- Student Financial Assistance (two programs)

Adult Basic Education

Basic education programs are designed for adults who have not completed high school, are 18 years of age and older and have been out of school for at least one year. They are delivered through Saskatchewan's regional colleges, all campuses of the Saskatchewan Institute of Applied Science and Technology (SIAST) and the Dumont Technical Institute. Income support may be available for students while they are in training.

For more information contact one of the post-secondary educational institutions listed above.

Employability Assistance for People with Disabilities (EAPD)

The EAPD Program provides funding to assist adults with disabilities to prepare for, secure and maintain employment. Various supports are offered, including training-on-the-job, vocational and work assessments, psycho-educational assessments, job coaching, support for employers and disability-related costs in a wide variety of post-secondary education and training programs.

Employment Programs

The employment programs described below are:

- Work Placement
- Community Works
- Bridging Program
- Job Development Services
- Self-Employment

- Work Placement Program – The Work Placement Program provides funding assistance to employers to hire eligible employees and provide on-the-job skills training. Both private and public sector employers are eligible. Funding assistance may include wage subsidies, or employment related support for employees such as job coaching, mentoring or equipment.

  For more information contact the closest office of Canada-Saskatchewan Career and Employment Services.

- Community Works Program – The Community Works Program provides funding assistance to community-based organizations, municipalities, First Nations, tribal councils and the Métis Nation of Saskatchewan to hire eligible employees for projects that provide a community benefit. Wage subsidies and other employment-related costs may be provided. Employers are expected to provide on-the-job training and to help employees find another job at the end of the project.

  For more information contact the closest office of Canada-Saskatchewan Career and Employment Services.

- Bridging Program – The Bridging Program funds programs, services and supports that link participants to jobs. These may include assessment, counselling, academic upgrading, work experience and other employment and training supports. Funding is available to several organizations including community groups, public and private training institutions, and industry associations to develop and deliver projects that help participants prepare for work.

  For more information contact the closest office of Canada-Saskatchewan Career and Employment Services.

- Job Development Services – Program consultants will work with businesses, community groups and local governments to identify job opportunities for individuals and the skills needed for jobs. They will also help recruit and match individuals for jobs.

  For more information contact the closest office of Canada Saskatchewan Career and Employment Services.

- Self-Employment Program – The Self-Employment Program offers:
  - Funding to qualified trainers to deliver training that assists participants to start a business.
  - Funding for training services and supports that assist participants to develop and operate a business. These may include business plan development, market research, accounting and other business supports.

  For more information contact the closest office of Canada-Saskatchewan Career and Employment Services.

The Family Literacy Initiative

Research shows that parents with higher literacy skills are more likely to help their children develop positive attitudes toward reading and learning. The Family Literacy Initiative funds community responsive programs/services that:

- Address the literacy needs of parents and children as a learning unit through shared literacy activities and experiences;
- Motivate parents in assisting their children to learn to read and write;
- Work with parents in respectful, inclusive ways to raise the parents' self-esteem and empower them to be advocates of their children's education;
- Increase access and effectiveness of programs that support parents to improve their own literacy skills;
- Use resources in a coordinated, efficient and effective way to provide family literacy programming that is linked to related initiatives funded by other sources such as the Saskatchewan Action Plan for Children, National Literacy Secretariat funds, and/or the Aboriginal Headstart Program.

Types of organizations eligible for funding include:

- Non-profit registered organizations operating at the provincial, regional, community or neighbourhood level;
- Non-governmental institutions (i.e., teachers' federations, labour unions, trade associations and professional associations); and,
- Canadian post-secondary institutions (i.e., colleges, universities and vocational/technical institutes).

JobStart/Future Skills

The JobStart/Future Skills program that will be of most interest to community groups is Workbased Training for the Unemployed. This program is described below. In addition, JobStart/Future Skills funds short-term training in public training institutions and also helps create partnerships between industry sectors and training institutions.

- Workbased Training for the Unemployed – This program assists employers to provide workbased training for people who are unemployed. Employers can include registered businesses, industry associations, non-government organizations and local governments. The training provided must offer strong prospects of ongoing full-time employment.

  For more information contact the closest office of Canada-Saskatchewan Career and Employment Services.

Provincial Training Allowance

The Provincial Training Allowance provides grant funding to assist with the costs of living for low-income adult students enrolled in basic education and related studies, bridging programs or quick skills training which are not approved for student loan funding. The amount of the Provincial Training Allowance depends on an individual's or family's circumstances and the number of children in the family.

Call 1-800-597-8278 for more information or contact the closest office of Canada-Saskatchewan Career and Employment Services. Information is also available from regional colleges, SIAST, and Dumont Technical Institute.

Student Financial Assistance

One student loan and one tax credit program are available.

- Canada-Saskatchewan Integrated Student Loan Program – Starting August 1, 2001, students applying for financial assistance now have one loan and one repayment. The amount of loans available under the Canada-Saskatchewan Integrated Student Loan Program vary depending on a student's personal circumstances.

  Information about this program is available from the registrar's office of all of Saskatchewan's post-secondary institutions or from Saskatchewan Post-Secondary Education and Skills Training at the address below.

- Saskatchewan Post-Secondary Graduate Tax Credit – This Saskatchewan Post-Secondary Graduate Tax Credit is a one-time $350 tax credit that graduates and journeypersons may apply against their Saskatchewan income tax.

  To be eligible for this tax credit, graduates and journeypersons must have graduated, or received their certification, on or after January 1, 2000. The program must be approved for Canada Student Loans purposes, result in a certificate, diploma or degree, and be at least six months of full-time study. You are also eligible if you graduated from an out-of-province post-secondary educational institution in a program that meets the above criteria and are filing a Saskatchewan income tax return.

  Some post-secondary educational institutions in Saskatchewan, including the University of Saskatchewan, University of Regina, all SIAST campuses, the Saskatchewan Apprenticeship and Trade Certification Commission, and some private schools will be applying to the Province on behalf of their graduates of eligible programs. The Province will mail out certificates to these graduates in February of each year, using addresses supplied by the institutions. Be sure that the school from which you graduated has your current address.

A list of Saskatchewan Social Services phone numbers and office locations throughout Saskatchewan appears at the end of this section.

Programs offered by Saskatchewan Social Services include:

- Building Independence (four programs)
- Child Day Care Programs (two programs)
- Child Nutrition and Development Program
- Saskatchewan's Action Plan for Children – Prevention and Support Grants
- Saskatchewan Assistance Plan
- Saskatchewan Income Plan

Building Independence

The Building Independence strategy is intended to assist low-income families with the cost of raising children and to help low income people access training and employment opportunities. For more information on any of the programs offered under Building Independence call:

1-877-696-7546 (toll-free)
(306) 787-4723 (Regina)

- The Saskatchewan Employment Supplement is a monthly payment that supplements the income earned by lower income parents from wages, self-employment and child/spousal maintenance payments. It assists parents with the child-related costs of going to work and supports their decision to work for families on social assistance. The Saskatchewan Employment Supplement helps parents move from dependence on social assistance to the workforce. The amount of the supplement depends on the parents' income and the number of children in the family.
- The Saskatchewan Child Benefit provides a monthly allowance to assist lower income families with the cost of raising children. The Saskatchewan Child Benefit provides support for children whose families are making the transition from social assistance to work, as well as parents already working low-income jobs. This program is administered on behalf of Saskatchewan by the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency and benefits are combined with the National Child Benefit Supplement and the Canadian Child Tax Benefit. Eligibility is determined by the amount of family income reported on the previous year's tax return.
- Family Health Benefits provide supplementary health benefits to lower income working families to ensure they do not fall onto social assistance because of the health needs of their children. Families receiving the Saskatchewan Employment Supplement or the Saskatchewan Child Benefit are eligible. This program is administered by Saskatchewan Health.
- The Provincial Training Allowance is a monthly payment for students enrolled in adult basic education or related courses. The Allowance assists lower income individuals and families to access training opportunities. It is administered by Saskatchewan Post-Secondary Education and Skills Training.

Child Day Care Programs

- Child Day Care Subsidy Program – The provincial Child Day Care Subsidy Program provides child care subsidies to assist low-income families in covering their child care costs. The program is based on gross monthly family income and is available to parents using authorized, licensed services who need child care because they are working, looking for work, attending education or training programs, or have children with special needs.

  The amount of the subsidy depends on:

  - Previous month's gross family income
  - The number of your children who are attending licensed child day care
  - The child's type of licensed facility
  - The child's monthly fee
  - The child's monthly attendance

  For more information on the Child Day Care Subsidy Program or for an application form contact:

Child Nutrition and Development Program

Saskatchewan Social Services, through the Child Nutrition and Development Program, provides financial support to community partners to assist with nutrition, nutritional education, and family support projects such as community kitchens, community gardens, and other self-sufficiency projects.

The program uses a community development approach that emphasizes community partnership, joint funding, and a coordinated community response to child hunger.

For further information on the Child Nutrition and Development Program contact your local Social Service Office (see list at the end of this section on Saskatchewan Social Services).

Saskatchewan's Action Plan for Children – Prevention and Support Grants

Saskatchewan's Action Plan for Children (also known as the Child Action Plan) is a provincial strategy to enhance the well-being of Saskatchewan youth and families. It represents the combined efforts of nine provincial government departments and agencies.

The Prevention and Support Grants represent one of the community components of the Child Action Plan.

Projects funded under Prevention and Support Grants:

- Improve the health and well-being of children, youth and families, supporting the principles and goals of the Action Plan;
- Emphasize prevention and/or support for vulnerable families;
- Address community identified needs and support community involvement, partnership and ownership;
- Demonstrate cultural sensitivity, reflecting the background and input of the community;
- Avoid unnecessary duplication or existing programs and parallel administrative structures; and,
- Encourage and assist participating individuals, families and communities to become more self-sufficient in meeting their needs.

For more information about the types of projects for which funding is provided and the application process, contact the Regional Intersectoral Committee nearest you (listed on page 18).

Saskatchewan Assistance Plan

The Saskatchewan Assistance Plan provides basic income support for families and individuals who, for reasons such as disability, illness or unemployment, may not have sufficient resources to meet their basic living costs. Social assistance provides funds for food, shelter, utilities, clothing and special needs. Supplementary health benefits may be provided by Saskatchewan Health. Any person in financial need may apply for social assistance. Social services staff work with each applicant to establish his or her needs and resources, and to develop a transition plan to independence. Clients who are unable to find employment may be referred to the nearest office of Canada-Saskatchewan Career and Employment Services for assistance in accessing training and employment opportunities.

For further information about the Saskatchewan Assistance Plan contact your local Social Services office listed at the end of this section on Saskatchewan Social Services.

Saskatchewan Income Plan

The Saskatchewan Income Plan program provides senior citizens with the financial assistance required to meet their basic needs. A monthly supplement is provided to seniors who have little or no income other than the federal Old Age Security pension and Guaranteed Income Supplement.

No application is necessary with the Saskatchewan Income Plan. You must first apply for the federal Guaranteed Income Supplement. Eligibility for the provincial benefit is then determined by the amount of your federal Guaranteed Income Supplement rate.

The Canada Customs and Revenue Agency delivers the following three programs for low-income individuals and families:

Child and Family Benefits Programs

- Canada Child Tax Benefit – a tax-free monthly payment to low-income families to help them with the cost of raising children under the age of 18.
- Saskatchewan Child Benefit – a tax-free monthly payment to help lower-income families with the cost of raising children under the age of 18. Benefits from this program are combined with the Canada Child Tax Benefit into a single monthly payment.
- GST/HST Credit (Goods and Services Tax/Harmonized Sales Tax) – a tax-free payment to help low-income individuals and families offset the cost of the GST/HST.

For information about eligibility criteria, the application process and amount of benefits for any of these programs visit the website or contact the Regina or Saskatoon Office of the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency.

The Department of Canadian Heritage administers the Aboriginal Women's Program.

Aboriginal Women's Program

The Aboriginal Women's Program funds Aboriginal women's organizations. The purpose of the program is to improve the socio-economic and political status of Aboriginal women. It provides funds for staff salaries and employee benefits, office and administration expenses, professional services as well as some travel and conference expenses. Funding is available to regional and local Aboriginal women's organizations for projects that improve social conditions, cultural retention, economic well-being and leadership development and training, while maintaining cultural distinctiveness and preserving cultural identity.

The Family Violence Initiative is also part of this program. It is designed to facilitate community-based projects and supports activities that promote the development and implementation of community and culturally appropriate models to deal with family violence issues, and the development of partnerships and leadership in this field.

Aboriginal women's groups at the national, provincial, regional, community and neighbourhood levels that clearly demonstrate active participation and representation of Aboriginal women may qualify for funding.

Health Canada administers about a dozen different community grant programs. Some are directed to specific population groups (for example, seniors) or for specific types of programs (for example, stop smoking programs). Check the Health Canada website (http://www.hc-sc.gc.ca/) for more information about these specific programs.

The Health Canada programs that are likely to be of most interest to women's groups in Saskatchewan are:

- Aboriginal Head Start
- Canada Prenatal Nutrition Program (CPNP)
- Community Action Program for Children (CAPC)
- CAPC/CPNP National Projects Fund

Aboriginal Head Start

Aboriginal Head Start funds community-based projects that provide comprehensive experiences for Indian, Métis and Inuit preschool children and their families. Funded projects focus on children and include the following components:

- Culture and language
- Education
- Health promotion
- Nutrition
- Social support programs
- Parental involvement

Tel.: (306) 780-3474

Canada Prenatal Nutrition Program (CPNP)

The Canada Prenatal Nutrition Program provides the resources for community-based groups to offer supports such as nutrition (food and/or vitamin/mineral supplements, nutrition, counselling, food skills), knowledge and education (specialized counselling on prenatal health issues, breastfeeding and infant development), social support, and assistance with access to services (shelter, health care, specialized counselling). Projects work with participants to modify unhealthy and high-risk behaviours such as smoking, alcohol and other substance use.

The Canada Prenatal Nutrition Program is not a universal program, but is especially designed to meet the needs of those pregnant women most at risk for poor birth outcome:

- Women living in poverty
- Teens
- Women who use alcohol, tobacco or other harmful substances
- Women living in violent situations
- Aboriginal women
- Recent immigrants
- Women living in social or geographic isolation or with limited access to services

Tel.: (306) 780-8313

Health Canada

Community Action Program for Children (CAPC)

The Community Action Program for Children funds community groups to establish and deliver services that address the developmental needs of at-risk children (0-6 years).

Program services include: parent/family resource centres, child development centres, parenting education and infant stimulation.

Target groups include:

- Children living in low-income families
- Children living in teenage-parent families
- Children experiencing developmental delays, social, emotional or behavioural problems
- Abused and neglected children

Tel.: (306) 780-7432

CAPC/CPNP National Projects Fund

The purpose of this program is to fund initiatives that will support the objectives of CAPC/CPNP programs and directly benefit CAPC and CPNP projects across Canada.

Local projects across the country often face common concerns or issues. The National Projects Fund makes coordinated initiatives possible. The Fund supports local communities and joint management committees to work together on common problems and issues. The Fund allows national, regional or local organizations to undertake specific, short-term initiatives in support of activities that generate knowledge and action about children, families and the role of the community in supporting families.

Funding priorities for 2002/03 are:

1. Human resources, training and supervision
2. Volunteer recruitment and management
3. National think tank
4. Connectivity
5. Fetal alcohol syndrome (FAS)
6. Support for francophone projects outside Quebec

Grants and Contributions

HRDC's Grants and Contributions Program helps Canadians of all ages manage transitions and challenges throughout their lives. Programs are available for individuals, organizations and labour.

Grants and Contributions administers more than two dozen different programs. Check the website (http://www18.hrdc-drhc.gc.ca/) for a full listing of programs.

- Programs for Individuals – Several programs are available for each of these categories of individuals:
  - Aboriginal people
  - Persons with disabilities
  - Unemployed persons
  - Youth
- Programs for Organizations – Several programs are available for each of these types of organizations:
  - Businesses/employers
  - Communities
  - Homelessness
  - Education/research
  - Other organizations
- Labour Programs – Labour programs focus on labour-management partnerships.

  Application procedures vary depending on the program. The Grants and Contributions website gives eligibility criteria for each program and describes the application process.

  Information about some Grants and Contributions programs is available from your local Human Resources Centre of Canada.

Income Security Programs

Human Resources Development Canada, through its Income Security Programs, delivers both:

- Canada Pension Plan
- Old Age Security Program

Canada Pension Plan (CPP)

For more information about the programs listed below, check the Income Security Website: http://www.rad.drhc.gc.ca/_isp or contact the Human Resources Centre of Canada nearest you.

If you have contributed to the CPP, you may be eligible for the benefits listed below.

- Retirement Pension – As little as one valid contribution may entitle you to a CPP retirement pension available as early as 60.

- Survivor Benefits
  - Lump Sum Death Benefit – May be paid to the estate of the contributor. Where there is no will or estate, it may be payable to the person(s) responsible for funeral costs, the surviving spouse or the next of kin, in that order.
  - Surviving Spouse's Benefit – The eligible spouse (legal or common-law) may receive a monthly Survivor's Benefit, even if the spouse remarries.
  - Child's Benefit – A monthly child's benefit may be paid for the children under the age of 18 or between 18 and 25 in full-time attendance at a recognized educational institution.

- Disability Benefits
  - Disability Benefits – A monthly disability pension paid to contributors who meet the eligibility requirements under the Canada Pension Plan legislation.
  - Child's Benefit – A monthly child's benefit may be paid for children under the age of 18 or between 18 and 25 in full-time attendance at a recognized educational institution.

- Assignment (Pension Sharing) – Couples in an ongoing relationship may voluntarily share their CPP retirement pensions.

Credit Splitting – CPP credits may be divided by divorced or separated couples (legal or common-law unions). Credits are divided for each year the couple lived together. Pension credits are used to establish eligibility for CPP benefits and to calculate the amount of benefits. Contributors may obtain a credit split even if they have remarried.

Human Resources Development Canada (Continued)

Old Age Security Programs (OAS)

The benefits under the OAS programs are based on age and residence in Canada.

- Old Age Security (OAS) – A monthly payment that goes to most people over age 65 who have lived in Canada for a specific time. Individuals receive OAS regardless of whether they have been in the labour force or not.
- Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS) – A monthly payment that provides extra money to low income people who receive the Old Age Security pension.
- Spouse's Allowance (SPA) – Available to people who are 60-64 years old, who have lived in Canada for a minimum of 10 years after age of 18 and whose spouse receives the Guaranteed Income Supplement.
- Widowed Spouse's Allowance (WSA) – A monthly payment that is available to low-income widows or widowers 60-64 years old who met certain requirements.

National Literacy Secretariat

The mandate of the National Literacy Secretariat is to facilitate the involvement of all sectors of society in creating a more literate Canada. The National Literacy Program provides financial assistance to support adult literacy development in each of the provinces and territories, including Saskatchewan. Literacy projects considered for funding are directed at developing regional or local literacy and may include:

- Development of learning materials
- Research
- Improvement of access and outreach
- Improvement of coordination and information sharing
- Increasing public awareness

Types of organizations eligible for funding include:

- Non-profit organizations operating at the national, provincial, regional, community or neighbourhood level;
- Non-governmental institutions (i.e., teachers' federations, labour unions, trade associations and professional associations); and,
- Canadian post-secondary institutions (i.e., colleges, universities and vocational/technical institutes).

Recommendations for funding are made in consultation with Saskatchewan Post-Secondary Education and Skills Training. For further information, contact:

The Women's Program is administered by Status of Women Canada.

Women's Program

The Women's Program supports action by women's organizations and other partners seeking to advance equality for women by addressing women's economic, social, political and legal situation.

Currently the Women's Program focuses its efforts in three areas:

- Improving women's economic status
- Eliminating systemic violence against women and the girl child
- Achieving social justice

The Women's Program considers funding for initiatives that are change-oriented, address one or more of the Women's Program objectives and areas of focus, and have a well-developed plan.

Technical support such as help with planning and referrals to other agencies and resource people is also available.

Part 3: Municipal Government and Health Districts

Cities, Towns, Villages and Rural Municipalities

- Some cities, towns, villages and rural municipalities provide grants to improve the life of local residents and the quality of life in the community as a whole. For example, some local governments offer Social Development Grants to non-profit community groups. Contact your city, town, village or rural municipality office for more information.

Health Districts

- Some health districts provide Community Wellness grants to community groups. These grants usually are for health promotion activities and/or activities intended to increase wellness in the community. Examples might be programs that promote healthy eating or physical activity, or programs to reduce community or family violence. Contact your local health district to get more information.

  A list of the names, addresses and phone numbers of Saskatchewan's health districts is available on Saskatchewan Health's website at http://www.health.gov.sk.ca/.

Canadian Women's Foundation (CWF) is Canada's first and only national public foundation dedicated to improving the lives of women and girls through economic and social change. The Foundation raises funds and makes grants to charitable projects that help women and girls achieve greater self-reliance and economic independence.

The Foundation funds projects in two areas: prevention of violence against women and economic development.

Violence prevention grants are made from the following funds at CWF:

- The Body Shop STOP Violence Against Women Fund
- The Canadian Pacific Violence prevention Fund (Canadian Pacific Charitable Foundation and Canadian Pacific Hotels)
- The Royal LePage Shelter Foundation Fund
- The Traders Challenge Fund (presenting sponsor Ericsson Canada Inc.)
- The White Ribbon Campaign Fund
- The Zellers Friends of the Family Fund, and
- The CWF Violence Prevention Fund, supported by
  - Individual donors
  - The Aimee Quitevis Memorial Fund
  - The Tony McNaughton Memorial Fund, established by Starbucks to honour Starbucks store manager Tony McNaughton

Money for the CWF Economic Development Fund is raised from:

- Individual donors from across Canada
- Supporters of events such as the CWF Professional Breakfast and the TCREW (Toronto Commercial Real Estate Women) Annual Golf Tournament
- A partnership with the CIBC Charitable Foundation
- Other businesses and professional firms

The Canadian Women's Foundation does not accept unsolicited grant requests. If your organization is interested in applying for a grant, contact the CWF and ask to be added to the Request for Proposal mailing list. Refer to the CWF website (http://www.cdnwomen.org) for more information about the types of projects that are funded, activities that are ineligible for funding and procedures for applying for a grant.

KidSport™ is a children's charity. It is designed to assist children of families facing financial obstacles to participate in community sport programs.

In Saskatchewan, volunteer local KidSport™ committees are located in Regina, Saskatoon, Indian Head, Swift Current, Yorkton, Windthorst, Lloydminster, Rosetown, Kindersley, Esterhazy, Prince Albert, Battlefords, Weyburn, Melville, Shaunavon, Strasbourg, Biggar, Pipestone Qu'Appelle Region, and Eston. These local committees administer the program, develop fundraising initiatives, and adjudicate all funding requests. All money raised by a community stays in that community.

Individual grants of up to $200 are available to children up to 18 years old. Priority is given to payment of participation/registration fees. Grants are issued to a league, association or school on behalf of the participant.

Program funding is also available to sport organizations and youth agencies targeting KidSport™ children.

Application forms are available from KidSport™ at the address on the left.

The mission of the Saskatchewan Literacy Foundation is to improve literacy in Saskatchewan by funding and enhancing quality adult- and family-based literacy programs. Grant applications are solicited annually, based on criteria, and monies are awarded accordingly.

Eligible organizations include non-profit charitable organizations and non-governmental institutions operating at a provincial, regional, community or neighbourhood level. Eligible organizations include both literacy and non-literacy groups; can include organizations working with persons with disabilities, offenders and ex-offenders, seniors, Aboriginal people and the community in general.

This funding is made possible, in part, through the PGI Golf Tournament for Literacy, held in Regina; Word Whiz, an adult spelling bee, held in Saskatoon and Prince Albert; and a marketing strategy developed and facilitated by the Saskatchewan Literacy Foundation.

For a grant application form, grant criteria, and the conditions of grants awarded contact the Foundation. The deadline for grant applications is December 31.

Saskatchewan Lotteries funds the Saskatchewan Lotteries Community Grant Program.

Saskatchewan Lotteries Community Grant Program

The Saskatchewan Lotteries Community Grant Program assists in the development of sport, culture and recreation programs by providing funds to non-profit community organizations operated by volunteers. These funds are distributed through local governments and are a partnership among Sask Sport Inc., SaskCulture Inc., Saskatchewan Parks and Recreation Association Inc. and Saskatchewan Culture, Youth and Recreation.

Grants are provided to municipal governments such as villages, towns, cities and rural municipalities and to First Nations. These local governments then establish program criteria and distribute funds to local, non-profit volunteer community groups to deliver programs.

For more information:

- Community groups should contact their local municipal government or recreation association.
- Municipal governments and First Nations should contact the Community Grant Coordinator at the address on the left.

P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund and P.E.O. Program for Continuing Education

The PEO Educational Loan Fund lends money to women for post-secondary education. An applicant must be a citizen or be a permanent resident of the U.S. or Canada, be recommended by a local chapter, be a high school graduate or have equivalent education, be in need of financial assistance, be enrolled full- or part-time, be within two years but not less than four months of completing the course study for which the loan is approved, have and maintain the scholastic average required for graduation and have financially responsible co-signers. The maximum amount loaned to any one student is $5,200. A Board of Trustees will evaluate each application and approve a loan according to the availability of funds. Interest of 4 percent is due annually on the unpaid balance of the loan. Repayment must begin as soon as the borrower completes the period of study for which the loan is approved, the full amount being due six years from the date of issue.

The P.E.O. Program for Continuing Education provides grants to women who have discontinued their education and then find it necessary to resume studies due to changing demands in their lives. A woman is eligible for recommendation by a local chapter if she is a citizen of the U.S. or Canada, has a demonstrated need for financial assistance, has made a commitment to continue her education, after a minimum of 12 consecutive months as a non-student at some time in her adult life and has educational goals attainable within a maximum of 24 months and which offer good prospects for employment. The maximum grant is $1,500.

Apply: Interested students should contact Dorothy Jessup, 304 – 1123 Devonshire Drive N., Regina, SK, S4X 4H9, phone (306) 949-5548 or the P.E.O. website at http://www.peointernational.org.
